EARLY CHILDHOOD MUSIC CLASSES

Young children naturally respond to music. With spontaneous delight, they listen intently, sing along, and move to the beat. At Hoff-Barthelson, our teachers build on these early inclinations, inspiring a deep enjoyment of music while guiding the development of music-making skills.

Weekly classes for preschoolers incorporate exercises and games that involve singing, moving, improvising, and using small percussion instruments to promote keen inner hearing and rhythmic sensitivity. Props such as colorful balls, hoops, scarves, and puppets animate musical concepts and engage the senses and imagination. Even the very youngest children develop focus, spatial awareness, fine and gross motor skills, social skills, and the ability to work with others—all while having fun.

Our early childhood classes encourage and support the development of children's minds and bodies through Dalcroze Eurhythmics, a renowned teaching method that pairs music and movement. Hoff-Barthelson is known for one of the largest faculties of Dalcroze trained and certified teachers in the United States.

ADULT-CHILD CLASSES

The youngest students (9 months to 3 years) start with adult-child classes, where a joyful bond grows between children and their parents, grandparents, or caregivers as they sing together, listen, and move with the music.

CHILD-ONLY CLASSES

We offer a variety of music and movement classes for children beginning at age 3 who enjoy attending music class independently. Our Seasons of Song classes begin as adult-child classes and transition to child-only, helping children gain the confidence to attend class on their own.

YOUR CHILD'S FIRST INSTRUMENT

Older 3-year-olds through kindergarten students may take the first steps in learning to play an instrument in hands-on classes and pre-Suzuki classes. Group classes in piano, recorder, and ukulele introduce the joy of making music with others while teaching basic playing technique, foundational musical concepts, and note reading. As an example, our Suzuki Pre-Twinkler class for three- and four-year-olds and their grown-ups prepares children for violin study. Aspiring violinists begin playing on foam violins (Foamalins) and graduate to child-size instruments, taking their first steps toward proper violin position and playing.

Seasons of Song (For Threes; must be three by December 31, 2019)

One 40 minute class per week - $495

Monday, 12:30 pm

In Seasons of Song, three-year-olds explore musical concepts through songs, movement, musical games, instruments, and Chalk Talk. Children develop vocal and aural skills, and enjoy singing in a group. Thematically structured around nature and the changing seasons, these sessions begin as adult-child classes and transition to child-only classes as children become confident attending class on their own. A song list and playlist are included so families can continue making music at home. Available for parents and children together as well as in "drop off" format for children who enjoy attending music class independently.

"Chalk Talk" introduces the children to music notation: the teacher makes sounds with the chalk while notating rhythm patterns on the board—the chalk "talks"—so that the children hear rhythms while they observe the notation.
