Adult Classes and Ensembles Spring 2024

Learning is a lifelong journey. At Hoff-Barthelson Music School, we welcome students of all ages and abilities, from beginners to advanced. It's never too late to enrich yourself with the joy of making music—and our flexible options will work around your busy schedule.

We can help make your dreams of playing and performing music along with your peers come true. You may discover talents and interests that you didn't know you had, while making social connections among our wide following of other adult learners. Led by world class faculty, you can explore a la carte experiences in classical, jazz and popular music through lessons, short or long-term classes, ensembles and performance opportunities for all levels. For those with greater aspirations, our Comprehensive Program for Adults includes all we have to offer, in a program customized just for you.

Fees shown are for a la carte tuition enrollments only. Enrollment in one or more classes is included in our comprehensive tuition packages.

Learn more about our offerings including lessons, classes, and ensembles, or request a welcome visit by calling us at 914-723-1169.

‡ Denotes hybrid classes that allow for students to attend in-person or remotely throughout the year. The School has invested in technology to create a hybrid class experience that will allow online and in-person attendees to participate equally in each class session.

Class and ensemble offerings subject to change. Visit www.hbms.org for current information.

Private Instruction

Private lessons are offered on more than 20 instruments, voice, and composition over 16-week fall and spring semesters and a flexible summer term.

Our flexible, three-tiered Comprehensive Program allows you to select the level that best matches your abilities while nurturing your potential within the time you have available to dedicate to your musical experience. In addition to private instruction, Comprehensive Program students enjoy ensemble opportunities; access to musicianship classes; group classes; professional accompaniment for strings, winds, brass and voice; performance workshops and recital opportunities; and progress reports.

Our Off Peak Program offers a lower-priced alternative for adults taking private lessons between 9:00 am and 3:00 pm on weekdays. Tuition covers lessons, accompaniment for string, wind, brass, and voice, performance workshops, and recital opportunities.

Ensemble Opportunities

Adult Chamber Music

Adults playing at intermediate and advanced levels make music together in a duo, trio, quartet, or larger chamber ensemble. Ensembles rehearse 20 weeks, October through May, and enjoy multiple performance opportunities. Chamber groups are formed based on student playing levels by a faculty coordinator. Students are welcome to suggest ensemble partners or, if they already perform in an ensemble, to register as a pre-formed group. 20 sessions per year. Coaching sessions for trios and larger ensembles are 60-minutes in duration. Coaching sessions for duos are 45-minutes in duration. Day and time are custom scheduled for each ensemble. Trios and larger, $1,040; Duos $1,540.

Adult Flute Choir

Hoff-Barthelson welcomes flutists to one of three flute ensembles: the Adult Flute Choir, age 18 and up; the Flute Club for flutists who are grade 8-12 and are performing at a NYSSMA Level 5-6; and the Junior Flutes for flutists who are grades 1-7. The groups perform at each of the School's major festivals. They combine for performances at the annual Flute Plus! event which celebrates all-things flute with performances, premieres of commissioned works, and clinics with invited flute luminaries.

Musicianship Classes

Musicianship classes provide opportunities to deepen your understanding of music and build additional skills that will make you a more capable and sensitive musician. These classes are great places to form friendships with other music-lovers. Fees are waived for those enrolled in private instruction.

Adult Theory 2 ‡

This class is designed for adult music students – instrumentalists, vocalists, and composers - who seek to develop a durable foundation in music theory and aural training fundamentals. A comprehensive overview of foundational concepts in written music is paired with aural training and listening assignments designed to develop familiarity with how music theory sounds and how it appears in actual repertoire. Never miss a class! All classes will be recorded and made available to enrolled students. Participants in this class typically understand the rudiments of music theory. Those uncertain of their ability to participate in this class are invited to request the HBMS Musicianship Assessment.

Group Piano Class for Beginners and Intermediates

Specially designed for adult learners new to the piano and to the elements of music, this course teaches foundational and continuing skills in piano technique, music reading, music theory, and listening. Intermediate players will also benefit from the individualized attention this class provides. The class meets in the School's keyboard lab which allows students to work at their own pace. The lab also provides a unique opportunity for students of varying levels to enjoy making music together. Students must have a piano or keyboard for home practice. No prior piano experience required. Some exposure to basic elements of music will be helpful but is not required. Students wishing to continue their study of the piano following completion of this class are invited to register for private piano lessons at the School.

Through the Ages: A Survey of the History of Music ‡

An exploration of the evolution of music that began during the fall semester of 2023 studying the purpose of music as it relates to society, politics, religion, architecture and art from Pre-historic times, through the music cultures of Antiquity: Sumerian, Egyptian, Greek and Roman and on to the inventions and innovations after the fall of the Roman Empire that contributed to the music and instruments we recognize today - Gregorian chant of the Middle Ages; Polyphony of the Renaissance and the absolute mastery of the music of Vivaldi, Bach and Handel in the Baroque Period. The Winter/Spring semester will continue the journey from the Baroque Era to the ongoing process of music innovation and invention in the Classical, Romantic, 20th Century and Music of Our Time. This is an intergenerational learning opportunity open to high school students and adults.
